

GCERF in Bangladesh

Since 2016, GCERF has lived up to its initial commitment, investing three times in a country. GCERF's last round of investment began in July 2022 and goes until December 2023.

This round of investment is focusing on turning the already existing activities into more sustainable ones, specifically the youth clubs and digital literacy.

This contributes to increased community agency and positive sense of purpose.

Portfolio overview as of June 2022 Active grants

Rupantar

2016-22 | Principal Recipient with 5 sub-recipients Stablished and ran peace clubs. Provided leadership, digital, and critical thinking skills to youth (including those in university and madrassas), and raised awareness on PVE.

Young Power in Social Action (YPSA)

2016-22 | Principal Recipient with 3 sub-recipients
 Established and trained youth platforms; held community engagement events and fostered social cohesion, and established and ran women's courtyard platforms.
 Provided educational and livelihood support and public education on PVE, gender-based violence, and COVID-19 prevention measures as part of COVID-19 PVE projects.

Photo: At a women's courtyard platform

Photo: At a community engagement event

Investment started: 2016 Investment to date: USD 9.3 million Current investment: USD 3.4 million Active grants: 2

Investment Focus

Chattogram – Cox's Bazar, Greater Dhaka, Rajshahi, Khulna

In-and out-of-school youth (juveniles – 12-17 and young adults 18-34), women, and Forcibly Displaced Myanmar Nationals and Host Communities, Religious leaders, and local authorities.

2016-2022

GCERF in Bangladesh works in collaboration with the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Ministry of Religious Affairs and other local government authorities, and the United Nations country team

Violent Extremism in Bangladesh: Drivers

Socio-economic factors such as poverty and youth underemployment act as the push factors for youth to join VE groups.

Political factors

such as corruption exacerbate the lack of trust in the government by the citizens.

Cultural factors

such as religious differences and the influx of Rohingya refugees also increase the potential of radicalization.

40th

On the Global Terrorism Index 2022, with 2 attacks and 6 deaths in 2021

Current Programming: Systems Approach

National: Advocating for the mainstreaming of P/CVE into national policies. Institutionalising and ensuring the sustainability of youth PVE/peace platforms.

Community: Promoting community-wide efforts at preventing VE through multiple community-level stakeholders' (youth, women, religious leaders, etc.) engagement and dialogue to build PVE capacity and raise awareness.

Individual: Building the individual's quest for social cohesion and tolerance, including youth's critical thinking and sense of purpose and increasing digital literacy.

Key Outputs*

* October 2021 – May 2022

new youth
initiatives have been set up to work
towards youth
inclusion and social

youth from project areas are representing their communities in decision-making

The new youth platforms were inspired by the PVE actions of existing peace platforms and are a step towards sustaining the GCERF-supported youth-led PVE platforms in these areas

29

Peace clubs are undergoing the final stages of registration with the Departments of Youth and 180

10 Peace and PVE
Life Skills Training
meeting
implemented PVE initiatives in their Sitakund

This is in line with the efforts to sustain
established youth
platforms while ensuring their institutionalization at the national level (to link
them with PVE networks and attract support).

These sessions focused on promoting leadership and digital skills with an emphasis on entrepreneurship and social media safety

Leadership and digital training sessions were held by Rupantar in Q1 Total beneficiaries

January 2019 - March 2022

Direct: 401,350

Indirect: 1,341,864

Kev achievements

* October 2021 – March 2022

YPSA CEVEC Consortium held 3,552 educational coaching support sessions (Math and English) for 201 children who belonged to families that were affected by the pandemic. The coaching support is intended to enable the children to catch up on their studies.

Set up in Q1 2022, 50 peace members are running a Facebook fact-checking group (Practicing Resilience through Information-Monitoring and Evaluation (PRIME) to raise awareness against misinformation and extremist propaganda.

Rupantar held nine interfaith dialogues meetings with 146 faith leaders in Khulna and Rajshahi.

The meetings produced 16 initiatives on PVE awareness, and social cohesion, which the religious leaders implemented within their circles.

In Q2 2022, Rupantar organized two subnational events in Khulna and Rajshahi to share experiences and lessons learned by the youth from PVE project activities with peace clubs and universities based in the project areas. Youth-led PVE initiatives from the project areas were showcased.

YPSA-CEVEC Consortium, through its quarterly courtyard meetings, discusses actions for PVE at the community level:

In the past, I didn't know about how people got involved in violent extremism or how extremist groups were recruited ... the knowledge gained from this event will help me avoid the trap of violent extremism. I will discuss PVE with my family to make them aware."

Story of Change

Jemi Barua (pseudonym), 32, is a widow from the Ramu subdistrict in Cox's Bazar. She has two kids and her parents to care for alone. She got married when she had just finished school. She could not be able to pursue her dream of higher education due to her early marriage. Her husband died shortly after her second child was born. She laments, "I feel helpless when I think of my two children. My husband died early. I have very little education to get a job to support my kids. Many days we have nothing to eat," Jemi lamented during the COVID-19 Pandemic.

Jemi's neighbour, Lima Barua, is a Youth Forum member of the YPSA-CEVEC Consortium who informed the consortium about Jemi's struggles. The YPSA consortium selected Jemi for the 90-day training as the pandemic had worsened her economic situation making her more vulnerable to VE recruitment, which has been prevalent in her Ramu community. Jemi expressed interest in computer training so that she could land a job.

She said, "After my husband's death, I grieved deeply, alone with my two kids. I had to come back to live with my elderly parents. I fell into hardship and depended on my relatives for money...Whenever I searched for a job, I was not hired because I had no digital skills. After my training, however, my computer-related skills and experience landed me a job which I am performing well."

After the successful completion of her training, Jemi got a job in an international NGO as a field facilitator. She was excited about her job and told the consortium: "I feel like I have stepped into a new life. Now I can earn and provide for myself and my family. I thank the YPSA-CEVEC Consortium for helping me out."

Photo: At a capacity development workshop

Rupantar conducts training on Digital Media Literacy and Social Media Entrepreneurship to build the capacity of the youth, and expose them to pick up soft skills in computing to increase their critical thinking competency to reduce online radicalisation. Using the digital skills they pick up through the trainings, the youth spread alternative narratives against extremism online:

"We are still grappling with the consequences of the COVID-19 pandemic, with lots of social contacts taking place online. We feel this training on Digital Media Literacy and Social Media Entrepreneurship could make a significant positive impact in the lives of young people."

- Md. Kabir Hossain, Ward Councillor, Khulna City Corporation, Rupantar, March 2022

"

GCERF's Added Value in Bangladesh

GCERF focuses on building institutional capacity e.g., CSOs, and government agencies.

GCERF invests in building a PVE-focused community of practice with CSOs, government agencies, and experts

Communities are at the forefront of project design and implementation, and the programme works with existing community structures for sustainability

All project design and implementation are done in coordination with nationally-aligned, locally-led programmes

GCERF connects CSOs, communities, and other stakeholders with government and security actors, leading to better coordination and relationships

GCERF's consortium model and capacity-building approach enables us to work in remote areas

Find out more about becoming an investor, our work, and the collective impact we make at: www.gcerf.org contact.bangladesh@gcerf.org

@thegcerf

GCERF Geneva, Switzerland