GCERF in Bangladesh

Since 2016, GCERF has lived up to its initial commitment, investing three times in a country. GCERF’s last round of investment began in July 2022 and goes until June 2024.

This round of investment is focusing on turning the already existing activities into more sustainable ones, specifically the youth clubs and digital literacy.

This is contributing to increased community agency and positive sense of purpose.

Portfolio overview as of August 2023

Chattogram – Cox’s Bazar, Greater Dhaka, Rajshahi, Khulna

Secondary school and madrassa students; University-level students; out-of-school and unemployed youth; virtual youth; Religious and Community Leaders; and Governance Actors.

2016–2024

GCERF in Bangladesh works in collaboration with the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Ministry of Religious Affairs and other local government authorities, and the United Nations country team.

Violent Extremism in Bangladesh: Drivers

Socio-economic factors such as poverty and youth underemployment act as the push factors for youth to join violent extremist (VE) groups.

Political factors such as corruption exacerbate the lack of trust in the government by the citizens.

Cultural factors such as religious differences and the influx of Rohingya refugees also increase the potential of radicalisation.

Key achievements
October 2022 – July 2023

Rupantar’s PEACE Consortium has been coordinating with several development organizations and PVE actors to activate the existing National PVE network and strengthen PVE interventions across the country.

Rupantar launched the “Youth for PEACE” Facebook group connecting over 4,000 youths for enhanced coordination and communication for PVE.

YPSA CEVEC secured memos from the Director of Islamic Foundation, Assistant Director of Hindu Religious Welfare Trust in Chattogram and Cox’s Bazar to address PVE in religious sermons with reference from the holy religious books.

To ensure sustainability, YPSA is working for capacity development of youth clubs and forums in resource mobilization and organizational management. 02 clubs have already received governmental registration with 41 clubs in the process.

During Q2 2023, which coincided with the time of the local governmental elections, PEACE Consortium implemented 25 Joint Social Action through 149 Peace clubs:

“Peace clubs have played an important role during the city corporation election period through making people aware and sensitize regarding online rumours, hate speech, propaganda. I can say, their initiatives played a vital role this time to avoid violence in this area during the election period.”

- Samsuddin Ahmed, Ward Councillor, Khulna City Corporation
Story of Change

Gorokghat High School embraced PVE activities as part of the YPSA CEVEC project since 2019. Mr. Zia Uddin, an English teacher was nominated by the Headmaster for his dedication and skill. Mr. Zia Uddin’s journey with PVE began with little knowledge, but through training provided by YPSA CEVEC, he recognized that PVE education is a vital tool against radicalization, fostering awareness and harmony. Mr. Zia transformed PVE from an abstract concept to an integral part of the school’s fabric. Under his guidance, coupled with the support of the school management committee, PVE found its place with the institution’s plan as an extra-curricular activity.

The school integrated a Life Skills Education (LSE) session on PVE into its curriculum, where Mr. Zia conducted LSE sessions among students in classes VII, IX, and X, making PVE awareness a central theme. His commitment extended to discussing PVE during school assemblies, using YPSA CEVEC’s flipcharts as a guide.

Gorokghat High School’s Head Teacher, Shristi Ram Dey, attested to Mr. Zia Uddin’s impact, “Initially we all were oriented on PVE and its importance in institution, but Mr. Zia Uddin played extra ordinary role to bring it in mainstream under Gorokghat High School. He succeeded to present the importance of PVE intervention and its priority as extra-curricular activity among them and included PVE intervention in their educational institutional plan.” This extra-curricular activity has been woven into the fabric of the school’s efforts for lasting impact, going beyond the school compound, as it has become a vehicle for change, fostering unity and understanding among the young minds of Mahmudpur.

Peace clubs established by Rupantar conducts inter-faith dialogue, campaign against online misinformation, court yard meeting, medical camp, cycle rally, reading corner, debate competition, wall painting, leaflet development and distribution etc. engaging youths, local government representatives, religious leaders and activists:

“The peace clubs made me interested in joining their cause after I met them. They have been very clear about their goals and objectives. They know what they want to do and what their means to make it happen is. They want to ensure that the community stays in harmony and mutual respect has been their weapons. It completely aligns with their depth of knowledge and understanding.”

– Mr. Rahman, Religious Leader and Imam of the local mosque, Satkhira, Khulna, May 2023

GCERF’s Added Value in Bangladesh

- GCERF focuses on building institutional capacity e.g., CSOs, and government agencies.
- All project design and implementation are done in coordination with nationally-aligned, locally-led programmes.
- GCERF invests in building a PVE-focused community of practice with CSOs, government agencies, and experts.
- GCERF connects CSOs, communities, and other stakeholders with government and security actors, leading to better coordination and relationships.
- Communities are at the forefront of project design and implementation, and the programme works with existing community structures for sustainability.
- GCERF’s consortium model and capacity-building approach enables us to work in remote areas.
